Atlanta British Motorcar Day, Saturday, September 4th, 2021
Tellus Science Museum Cartersville, GA

Submitted by Dave Kirkman

The Thirty-Seventh Annual Atlanta British Motorcar Day will be celebrated on Saturday, September 4, 2021. The Tellus Science Museum, just off I-75 near Cartersville, GA, will be our host and will offer discounted tickets for those who wish to tour the museum. The Tellus is also offering outdoor hamburgers and hotdogs for those who wish to not bring a picnic lunch.

The Atlanta British Motorcar Day is sponsored by all thirteen British car clubs in the greater Atlanta area and this year our charity is the new Savoy Automobile Museum in Cartersville, GA.

Complete information and registration is at www.atlantabritishmotorcarday.org.

Our club has always been a strong sponsor of this event and is an excellent opportunity to gather with fellow club members and enjoy a wide variety of British automobiles.

2021 Annual Judges' Training August 21st

Sumbitted by Philip DiTrolio

It's finally here: our Judges' training will take place at 10:00 AM Saturday, August 21st at Georgia Expo, 3355 Martin Farm Road, Suwanee, GA 30024. As a reminder, if you are planning to attend, please let me know no later than Friday the 13th. If you have not read the rulebook recently, please take the time to read it before our training session. It can be found on the JCNA website; go to Events and then to the Concours section. Scroll down to find the current rulebook, the current test, and the answer sheet.

Complete the JCNA test and get it back to me by the 13th. As we are still using the 2019 test and since the test is open book, everyone should achieve a perfect score. I would like to focus more of our time on judging procedures and our breakout sessions rather than going over the same material as last year (and the year before that).

After this year's training, breakout sessions will be led by Brian Hernan, Dave Kirkman, Alan Taylor, and yours truly. We will go over the JCNA way to judge a Jaguar. The sessions will run concurrently and should last approximately 30 minutes. If all goes as planned, we should be finished by 1:00.

Recently, our club sent out a link to a video detailing how to judge an E-Type; while this is not meant to be an official JCNA video, it offers a lot of insight into the judging process. I encourage everyone to watch it.

We will be providing coffee and doughnuts in the morning and a Chick Fil A meal at noon. When you

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

Welcome to the dog days of summer. Whew, it has been hotter than the Devil's house cat. A special thank you to Pete and Janell for hosting the ice cream social to help cool everyone down a bit.

Judges training is coming up at the end of the month and we need you to participate. It is a great way to learn about your cat and at the same time have some fun. Yes, judging is fun especially with the people in this club. November will be on us before you know it and we need your help.

With all the car events coming up you could fill your social calendar with nothing else. The first one is Atlanta British Motor Car Day a tradition that keeps on building. Now at the Tellus Science Museum on Saturday, September 4th, in Cartersville, where there will be plenty of room on the lawn to show off our cars.

Dick Maury has graciously offered to represent our club at the AGM this year. Thank you Dick for taking the time to volunteer. All the best, John

Mitch Evans Secures Home Race Podium For Jaguar Racing

25 July 2021, Jaguar Racing

Highlights:

- Jaguar Racing driver, Mitch Evans, secures a third-place podium finish after a chaotic race at the Heineken London E-Prix
- Sam Bird gained ten places before a collision with Norman Nato took him out of the race and a potential points finish
- Sam Bird sits third in the ABB FIA Formula E World Championship, while teammate Mitch Evans is in eighth
- Jaguar Racing remain third in the teams' standings with 156 points
- The Formula E season seven double-header finale takes place at the Berlin Tempelhof circuit on Saturday 14 and Sunday 15 August 2021

Jaguar Racing driver, Mitch Evans, secured a home race third-place podium finish after a chaotic Heineken London E-Prix. The Kiwi showed passion, determination and some good fortune as he raced his Jaguar I-TYPE 5 around the twisty London ExCel circuit.

Mitch Evans started the race in fifth after he made it through to Super Pole by qualifying second. Mitch held position for the first half of the race, defending from the BMW Andretti driver, Maximilian Gunther. With 21 minutes remaining, a collision with Gunther cost the Kiwi his front wing but he was fortunate to be able to continue. Mitch executed a fantastic overtake on Robin Frijns to take the final spot on the podium. The third-place finish marks the first podium on home soil for Jaguar in 30 years.

Sam Bird had a second tough day of qualifying and lined up twenty-first on the grid. The Brit showed the pace of the Jaguar I-TYPE 5 by carving his way through the pack and gaining ten places, before a collision with Norman Nato ended his race in a dramatic Heineken London E-Prix.

Sam Bird sits third in the ABB FIA Formula E Drivers' World Championship, while teammate Mitch Evans climbs back up to eighth. Jaguar Racing remain third in the teams' standings with 156 points.

James Barclay, Team Director Jaguar Racing: "An incredibly eventful weekend here at our home race in London. We are pleased to have achieved a podium with Mitch today. We know we have a strong race car and Mitch's drive today was testament to that. Sam's accident was really unfortunate as he would have scored points after a great drive but we now look forward to the double-header finale in Berlin. We are still in contention for both championships so will be throwing everything at it.

Sam Bird, #10 Jaguar Racing driver:

"Unfortunately I haven't had a great weekend. Going into it, you have high hopes and want to do everyone proud - being a British driver racing for a British team - but it didn't happen for us here in London. We had the pace but it wasn't meant to be. That is now in the past so we take the positives and look forward to Berlin. I am still in the hunt so there is everything to play for.

Mitch Evans, #20 Jaguar Racing driver:

"I'm so happy to be on the podium today for Jaguar - a British team on home soil. For a lot of the race I didn't think it would be possible as I lost my front wing and missed an ATTACK MODE. I really needed these points today and it puts me back into the championship fight. Thanks to all of the team and we're now looking forward to fighting for every point in Berlin.

Jake Dennis (BMW i Andretti Motorsport) strode to a serene victory in his home E-Prix in London, with a masterful performance that saw him finish five seconds clear of second-placed Nyck de Vries (Mercedes-EQ) and countryman Alex Lynn (Mahindra Racing).

The season seven double-header finale of the ABB FIA Formula E World Championship takes place at the Berlin Tempelhof circuit on Saturday 14 and Sunday 15 August 2021.
